in the miscellaneous list there was a general shaking of the dry bones. All the expresses were rampant, the demand for them seeming to imply that each company had been all at once invested with some extraordinary privilege or business contract which was going to make the immediate fortunes of the stockholders. Doubtless there is good reason for the rise in some of these shares, as, for reason for the rise in some of these shares, as, for instance, United States, which was always a football of the Eric Ring, but is now tikely to be less cavalierly treated in its business over the road. COMMERCIAL REPORT.

The stock market was intensely dull, and in the main steady and firm. The better prospect of a doubled subsidy for the Pacific Mail Steamship line, as developed in the wider agitation of the question in Congress and Washington telegrams propheaying and adoption of the appropriation, started a rise in the stock from 61% to 63, a movement emulated by the stock from $1% to 63, a movement emulated by Eric, which advanced to 37% on orders from the other side of the Atlantic, where Eric has been the great speculative card ever since the first news of the overthrow of Jay Gould reached London, on Monday night. These were about the only features of the stocks usually dealt in to any extent by the street, if we except a sudden turn in Northwestern to 79. But in the miscellaneous list there was a general shake.

MR. MILLER'S DEFENUE. A RICH EXHIBIT OF EVIDENCE.

What the Insurance Companies Did-Important Evidence of J. H. Goodsell-The $3,500 Check Explained-How Mr. Winston's Money Was Expended-Mr. Fisher's (o. Anchor Life) Effort to Get a Favorable Report-Would He Bribe Miller!-Silence on the Equitable Life Company.

The Sub-Committee on Insurance met again yestred sub-committee on Insurance met again yesterday at 156 Broadway, Mr. Tobey in the chair. After waiting over an hour for witnesses

James H. Goodsell was sworn and said:—I am publisher of the Spectator; our firm is J. H. & C. M. Goodsell; have been in the insurance business four and a half years; am well acquainted with infour and a half years; am well acquainted with in-surance affairs; know Messrs. Winston and Mc-Curdy, of the Mutual Life. Witness described the character of bills introduced in the Legislature last session restricting the insurance com-panies and others, calculated to benefit policy holders; there were forty bills in all intro-duced in the Senate and Assembly; there were many obnoxious bills introduced, and a confication of the life laws, called the Amended-Life and Health bill; I was employed by the leading insur-Health bill; I was employed by the leading insurance companies to represent them at Albany in urging bills in the interest of the companies and their customers; the Life bill passed the Senate and was defeated in the House; it was never considered in Committee of the Whole; I had an interview with Mr. Winston, of the Mutual Life, after returning from Albany, where I had examined bills, in which I said to him that it was necessary, to take legitimate him that it was necessary to take legitimate means to defeat the bills he employed me to re-present the company, and agreed to send the present the company, and agreed to send the amount agreed upon between us to me at Albany, to the care of Mr. Muller; I distinctly stated to him that you (Miller) knew nothing of my efforts in the matter; it was so considered between us that you knew nothing of it, and is a assured Mr. Winston; I received the proceeds of the check from you at Albany the morning after seeing Mr. Winston; you said you had received a letter from Mr. Winston; that you did not understand; i explained the matter, when you objected to the money being sent through the department, and wanted the check sent back; you finally endorsed the check to me, and as I was not known at the banks you one dollar for any purpose; witness testined as to the examination of the Author Life, and declared he never recommended the President (Mr. Fisher) to use money with Miller to influence a favorable certificate; on the contrary Fisher asked him if he (Goodsell) could not assist him in getting a favorable report; witness warned Fisher against using money for such a purpose and never received a cent from him for such purpose; I know, witness said, of no money paid to or in any manner reaching the superintendent for the purpose of affecting his official action; the Life bill I referred to met with the general approval of the life insurance people; the Life (or Miller) bill, as it passed the senate, provides, in them! every thall be appointed, except with the knowledge of the superior tendered in writing; the cause relative to the approval of the receiver was put in at the request of the insurance companies; this cause met with great political opposition, as it affected the receivers; Mr. Miller told me he objected to the appointment of William M. Tweed, Jr., as a reserver for the Mercanthe Fire Insurance Company; the officers of the Sational Life told me that Eithu Wright's regular charge for examining companies was $200 for the first day and $100 per day afterwards; I never neard of you aiding in the passage of the insurance companies of the opponition of amount agreed upon between us to me at Albany, to the care of Mr. Miller; I distinctly stated to him

A. I prefer not giving the names of the companies.

Q. Do you swear that all the money paid to you was for yoursell personally? A. The money was used for my own expenses and services; I decline to go into my own private affairs; when I called upon Winston it was arranged that the check for $3,500 should be sent to the care of Mr. Miller; I have known Miller for a year and a half, and was at work in the lobby; don't know who drew the Life bill, but Miller codified it, I believe; the bill was introduced by Senator Pleroe; I appeared before the committee to a ivocate the bill; Mr. Miller appeared before the committee also, but not on the same occasion.

Q. Was the sum of $20,000 paid to you to secure the passage of the bill? A. I decline to answer.

Q. Was any portion of the money paid to other parties than Miller? A. I decline to answer the whole question, but some was; not a cent of it was paid directly or indirectly to Mr. Miller; I will answer any questions as far as relates to Mr. Miller, but as relates to others and my private affairs I de-paid directly or indirectly to Mr. Miller; I will answer any questions as far as relates to Mr. Miller; but as relates to others and my private affairs I decline to answer.

To Mr. Barnes—I was employed and paid money to represent insurance companies, but beyond the matter relating to Mr. Miller I decline to say from what companies; the money I received from the Mutual Life was for my compensation during the session; so it was understood.

Q. Dai you receive money from the Equitable Life? A. As I said before, I decline to answer; the Anchor Life employed me to represent them at Albany, Dat I decline to answer how much was paid; it was paid to me some time after the certificate, and I warned him against attempting to use undue influence with the superintendent; I distinctly state that I have never received a cent of money to influence examinations.

To Mr. Tobey—I have not solicited money from George T, Hope or other persons to influence this committee of the Legislature.

To Mr. Miller—We had to encounter the opposition of the Tammany judges in the Life bill.

Judge Davies, recalled, said:—I have been Chief Justice of the Court of Appeais and an now counsel of the Mutual Life; I have acted as commissioner to examine companies being organized, and received for such service from $50 to $100 from each company; I would not consider $100 an extortional efective for each commissioner; I am well acquainted with the officers of the Life companies, which were usually from $50 to $100 from each. The report made by Miller's commissioners of the Firemea's Fund Life Company—He nonly one that companies, which were usually from $50 to $100 from each. The report made by Miller's commissioners of the Firemea's Fund Life Company—He nonly one that companies, which were usually from $50 to $100 from each. The report made by Miller's commissioners of the Firemea's Fund Life Company—He nonly one that company as to the fees paid to him as a commissioner lot examination of extortionate charges—was shown witness, who considered the rep
